

Inter-Club Competition Results

Competition	First	Second	Third
Open	John Turner	Peter Castle	Maggie Wright
Bowls	Maggie Wright	Tom Pockley	Peter Castle

Last month saw a goodly number of members and their partners visit us from The Garden of England Club for the third annual Inter-Club Competition. With 18 entries in both the 'Open' and 'Bowls' competitions Mark Baker, the judge, had his work cut out. The standard was so high that it took him two hours to arrive at a 1st, 2nd and 3rd in each category. In addition, it was felt necessary to give Richard Haselden, Mike Knight, Bob Hollands and Dave Ward commendations.

The general concensus was that the food provided appeared to be a little sparse but with the five fishes and a similar quantity of bread it seemed to be sufficient. The G.of E. provided a splendid spread for us last year, perhaps we ought to look to our laurels?

Bandsaw Blade Order

I am in need of bandsaw blades and wondered if you were too? We have not placed an order for some time so I will do so at the end of the month (no later). If you would like to be included then let me have your order before then. A.L.T. Saws of Gillingham seem to be the most competitive. They supply Dakin Flathers flexiback (British) carbon steel blades which, I believe, are a very good quality. Presumably A.L.T. weld them up and I have no knowledge of their workmanship but am willing to give them a try.... are you?

Typical prices e.g. 1/2"- up to 80" = £7.80p, 108" = £9.00p and 168" = £13.20p (see website for full list). ALT do not give a discount for a large order (only free carriage) but their prices are still the best I could find. Dakin Flathers make the full range of blades and, unless you want something exotic, perhaps we ought to stick to Regular, Alternate Set and Skip toothed blades to simplify the order. Please specify length, width, type of set and tpi.

The Garden of England Club receive a copy of this Newsletter and, as A.L.T. are on their patch, I will ask them if they are known to them. Anything detrimental heard and I will order from Tru-cut.
